

COMMITMENT TO RACIAL EQUITY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

The architectural profession and construction industry are historically some of the most all-male, all-white-dominated work fields. Because of this reality, Bramske Studio Architecture focuses on addressing these underlying inequities by addressing it in daily work, company policies, and the network of clients, consultants, and contractors with whom it engages.

Bramske Studio Architecture is committed to:

- Serving clients of diverse backgrounds, especially those who may not historically been able to engage the services of an architect by providing aggressively-priced and accessible services for a range of projects.
- Financially supporting non-profit organizations that are addressing racial equity and social justice in the Portland area.
- Supporting educational opportunities for youths of color pursuing an interest in architecture or design and by mentoring students of color who are currently pursuing architectural degrees.
- Actively pursuing contracts with consultants and contractors of color and female-owned companies.

Doing good business with good people is not enough. Existing networks must be expanded to include minority- and female-led companies.
